A photograph of the interior of Ecco Restaurant in Midtown. The space features a modern industrial aesthetic with exposed concrete pillars, large windows, and a polished floor. Several long wooden tables are set with white plates and folded brown napkins. Black wicker chairs are arranged around the tables. The ceiling is adorned with large, multi-bulb pendant lights. A striped booth runs along the right side of the room. Large windows on the left and back provide a view of the outdoor patio area, which has red umbrellas and potted plants.
